THE END OF AN ERA...

The FATHERHOOD project has been finally completed, and we are more than happy to announce its final steps and actions!

Let's have a look at the recent news, meetings, and outcomes!

THE FINAL PROJECT MEETING IN ICELAND!

The final project meeting took place in Iceland at the premises of the lead organisation. All partners were present and discussed the process done so far and the final steps before the completion of the project. Additionally, a debate about the final online conference, the finalisation of the training material, and the online platform which will host the teaching material was done!

All partners had the opportunity to catch up since the last meeting and some time for networking!

THE FINAL ONLINE CONFERENCE....

- Before the end of the project, a final conference in a hybrid mode took place in March 2023. The event was streamed online through Zoom. In cooperation with An Cosan, Quasar organized this event and hosted local people in person at their premises to watch the live streaming. On the other hand, ACP, Einurd & Growth Coop attended online, and each organization hosted a local speaker (fathers & stakeholders).
- The objective was to promote all project activities and outputs and give partners the opportunity to receive feedback for the material produced during the project life.
- This event also allowed the opportunity to promote it to the peer fathers involved and facilitated an open discussion on fatherhood, summing up participants' ideas and suggestions.

THE OUTPUTS IN A NUTSHELL...

1. GAP analysis → a comparative report of the father needs among partner countries
2. The training material → details & advice for healthy relationships among kids & parents
3. The learning platform → you may find the training material here.
4. The videos → Interviews with fathers and stakeholders
